

HISTORY AT OFFENHAM SCHOOL WILL:

Involve ownership of learning, working collaboratively and discussing ideas and findings

Have clear sequences for learning with rich historical vocabulary

Be enquiry based and engaging
looking at similarities
and differences

Lead to a knowledge of the contribution of history to the present day, inspired by historians and making links with everyday life.

Be 'hands on' with children using historical sources and experiences to discover for themselves

Our vision is for history is to provide children with a chronological understanding of British history from the Stone Age to the present day. They will be able to draw comparisons and make connections between different time periods and their own lives. Interlinked with this are studies of world history, such as the ancient civilisations of the Egyptians. We believe that local history is equally important. This is why it is woven into our curriculum to ensure it is explicitly taught and a rich understanding of our local heritage is developed. We place a high priority on the use of historical language and historical sources to encourage the children to investigate what has happened in the past, what we can still see today and how the past has influenced the present.
